Active Employee Death Benefits

The May edition of The Pensioner: Looking Forward reviewed benefit payment options when you retire, but what happens if you pass away before you retire?

MPERS provides survivor benefits not only to the survivors of retirees, but also to survivors of active employees if certain criteria are met.

Active employee survivor benefits can be classified into two categories, duty-related and non-duty related.

Non-Duty-Related Death (must be vested)

Closed Plan, Year 2000 Plan, and 2011 Tier

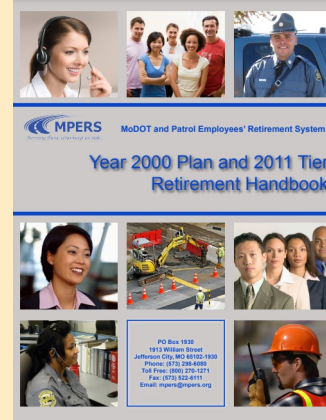

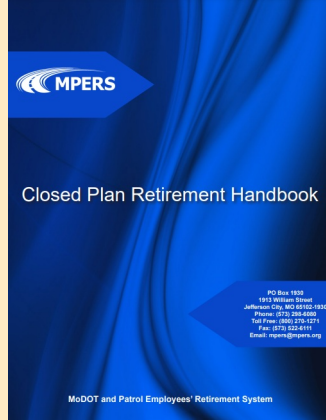

- The spouse to whom you are married on your date of death is eligible to receive a benefit for his/her lifetime.
- The benefit will be based on the monthly base benefit accrued as of the date of your death and calculated according to the joint & 100% survivor payment option.
- If there is no spouse, your surviving children under age 21 will receive 80% of your monthly base benefit, in equal shares, until that child reaches the age of 21.
- If your surviving children are under age 18, the benefit will be paid to the child in care of the surviving parent as natural guardian or to the legal conservator of the child until age 18. Thereafter, the benefit is paid to the child until age 21.
- If there is no eligible spouse or children, no benefits are payable.
- For 2011 tier members only, if there are no survivor benefits due, employee contributions will be refunded to the designated beneficiary or as allowed by law.

Duty-Related Death (no minimum service requirement)

Closed Plan, Year 2000 Plan, and 2011 Tier

- The spouse to whom you are married on your date of death is eligible to receive a benefit for his/her lifetime.
- The minimum survivor benefit for spouse and/or children is equal to 50% of the employee's final average pay.
- If there is no spouse, your eligible surviving children under age 21 will receive the benefit in equal shares until that child reaches the age of 21.
- If your surviving children are under age 18, the benefit will be paid to the child in care of the surviving parent as natural guardian or to the legal conservator of the child until age 18. Thereafter, the benefit is paid to the child until age 21.
- If there is no eligible spouse or children, no benefits are payable.
- For 2011 Tier members only, if there are no survivor benefits due, employee contributions will be refunded to the designated beneficiary or as allowed by law.

If you would like to dive a little deeper into survivor benefits, more information can be found in the elan handbooks below as well by contacting an MPERS benefit specialist.

Legislative Update

Another legislative session in the books! Friday, May 12th marked the end of the 2023 Regular Session of the Missouri General Assembly.

There were several pieces of legislation introduced this session and several passed after a number of years in the making.

Senate Bills 20 and 75 were both omnibus retirement bills that each contained several retirement-related pieces of legislation. Most important for MPERS was the passage of the cleanup bill, which had been pending in the General Assembly during the past five sessions. The cleanup bill affects both MPERS and MOSERS, as both systems share many statutes and provisions, and is intended to simply clean up existing statutes by fixing typos, rewording unclear language, and modifying language where implementation was incomplete. It did not change any benefits just cleaned up the language to make it clearer.

In addition to the cleanup bill, Senate Bills 20 and 75 both provide for the staggering of the terms for MPERS' four elected trustees. After the next regular election in 2026, the active trustees who are elected will serve for two years instead of four, then face reelection during the next regular election in 2028 for that group. Following that slight irregularity, the elections for the four elected trustees will be staggered – two in 2028 and two in 2030, serving four-year terms thereafter.

Currently, Senate Bills 20 and 75 are awaiting the Governor's signature.
